RUSHED FOR PAY ENVELOPE.

Ringing of Bell Caused Commo tion at City Hospital. A combination of grease, smoke and ap-proaching pay for the employes created a commotion at the City Hospital yesterday commetion at the City Hospital yesterday morning.

The yard call bell was rung to notify the employes of the institution that their pay was ready for distribution, and an unhappy circumstance caused some grease on a kitchen stove to raise a dense smoke. There is said to have been a mild panic in the women's ward, but this the hospital attendants deny, stating that what appeared to be a panic was confined merely to the employes rushing for their pay envelopes.

Hungarian Is Seriously Injured

While Reading.

Androis Coatcer, a Hungarian, aged 35 years, was seriously burned by the explosion of a lamp in the rear of 155 Riddie street at 5 o'clock last night. Coatcer was lying in a bed reading when the lamp, which was placed on a dresser at the bedside, exploded, throwing burning oil over his body.

At the City Hospital his condition was said to be serious. The burns were confined to the chest and right arm.

Fire, originating in a one-story stable in the rear of the residence of Mrs. Robert Hergat, of No. 2021 Laclede avenue, yester-day afternoon, destroyed the stable and sheds at No. 203 No. 202 and No. 203 La-way into every state in the Union are are constantly turning up nowadays, though none has been printed for fifteen years.

Miles Ogie, who, it is said engraved the plates, which are of the series of little, check letter C, died in prison at Columbus, O., from paralysis. His accomplice was not captured and is thought to be still living.

When an inventory of Ogie's effects were taken at the prison, a diagram, which was evidently the plat of a plant, was found and the Secret Service made every effort to locate it. Finally Operator Thomas M. Murphy, who is now in charge of the local bureau, located the plant in the Piney woods of Georgia. Investigation showed that the location was correct, but whatever had been buried there had been dug up. The investigators found a physician living within ten miles of the place, who had been in the Ohio Penitsentiary with Ogie, and it is supposed that the latter gave a copy of the diagram to the physician, and the plates were removed by him.

Guion was last seen when Socret-Service Operator Donella, who is in charge of the bureau at Louisville, Ky., with three men, surrounded him in a hut in the center of a deep wood. Breaking through a window Guion escaped, shooting a part of Donella's car away in the attempt. Donella, it is said, will even yet drop everything to chase Guion whenever he gets a ciue.

Mr. Kidwell said yesterday that he had no idea who took in the counterfeit. "There are four of us selling tickets," he said, "and in the rush Saturday afternoon the bill was put into the drawer and a ticket and change given for it. The loss will fall upon me."

The bill is almost worn out, but to anyone but an expert looks as good as any bill issued by the Government.

BUSINESS TO STAY.

New York, Aug. 2.—The pairings and the time of starting in the qualifying round of the National Amateur Golf Championship, to be played next week at the Chicago Golf Club links, at Wheaton, Ill., were disposed of to-day by the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association in session here.

Only the first eighteen holes will be played Tuesday. The committee decided to dispatch the first pair at $20 a. m., while the last of the sixty-eight pairs will receive the word soon after 3 p. m.

According to the draw, J. H. Snowden of Oil City and C. A. Brown of Birmingham, Ala., will be the first pair to start. Jerome D. Travers and W. T. West will start next. After these will come A. L. White, the intercollegiate champion, and the veteran C. B. McDonald.

One hour later Waiter J. Travis will leave the first tee, accompanied by Norris Bokum, one of the cracks of the Glenview Club. George Ormiston will start with W. Frederickson of Los Angeles.

A few minutes later another Pittsburg golfer, D. P. Frederick, also a semifinalist lest year, will be despatched with Doctor Simon Carr, of the Huntington Valley golfer, D. P. Frederick, also a semifinalist lest year, will be despatched with Doctor Simon Carr, of the Huntington Valley the Western Pennsylvania champion and Wirt I. Chicago, Aug. 2.—Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, was in Chicago to-day and before leaving for New York to-night discussed the fight between the New York and Gulf lines for export grain business.

"The Illinois Central is in the export grain business to stay," he said. "We shall attempt to influence all the export grain business possible via New Orleans. Last year we got the business that belonged to us and this year we intend to get more of it.

"We contend that a large part of the West is tributary to the Gulf porta, particularly New Orleans. While I would do nothing to injure New York, my home city, I believe that it has had more than its legitimate share of this export grain traffic from the West.

"I am in favor of giving the Interstate Commerce Commission all power of making it a court of record causable of enforces." REPUBLIC SPECIAL "I am in favor of giving the Interstate Commerce Commission all power of making it a court of record, capable of enforcing rulings, of passing the strongest kind of legislation tending to wipe out every known form of rebate, trick or device that bears the ear-marks of discrimination," continued President Fish.

"The midulght tariff may be eliminated by making it necessary to file notice of a reduction in rates at least ten days before."

ALL RUNAWAY GIRL WANTS IS BETTER CLOTHES, SHE SAYS

Mison Phelps, one of the best of the Glenview amateurs.

Five minutes later H. Chandler Egan, the title holder, will start with O. W. Jones of Toledo while the last pair will be Henry Allen of St. Louis and Noble Hardee of Savannah.

Belated entries to the number of nine were received to-day. These included: J. S. Carleton, Gler Echo; H. Weber, Toledo; F. A. Rockwood, Elmhurst; A. C. Perry, Windsor; H. W. Frazier, Toledo; C. E. Simont Exmoor; O. W. Jones, Toledo; H. Allen, St. Louis, Noble Hardee, Savannah. Cincinnati, O., Aug. 2.—"All I want is better clothes," said Marie Wimmer, a runaway St. Louis girl who is now with the family of William Bramlage, of No. 1257 Richmond street. Marie is 16, a bruthe family of William Bramlage, of No. 1257 Richmond street. Marie is 16, a brunette, and pretty.

"Oh, I've got a swell home," she continued, "I can't kick about that. My papa has meney and property, but he never buys me much to wear. When I am at home he wants me to go out and work, and when I am at work he wants me to stay at home. Bo I just decided to do neither. I wanted to come to Cincinnati anyhow, I've heard so much about it."

Miss Wimmer's father is Frank J. Wimmer, a carpenter. They live at No. 653 Villa street, St. Louis. Last Tuesday, after Marie failed to get some new clothes, she says, she determined to leave for Cincinnati that evening. The Bramlage family say Marie can stay with them as long as she likes.

Milton A. Phillips of No. 653 West Park avenue, St. Louis, who is accused of deserting his family, is said to have paid the Wimmer girl's fare to Cincinnati. Phillips has not been located here.

Miss Wimmer's family declares that she was treated with the utmost kindness, and they do not understand why she left home. Her clothing, it was said, was always of the best material, that the family could afford to buy.

Whether the young girl will be sent for at this time has not been decided. Medical Institutions to Unite.

New York, Aug. 2—The union of Lincoln Memorial University, which is situated at Cumberland Gap. Tens., with the Tennessee Medical College of Knoxville is assured by the vote of the Board of Directors of the university.

Some time ago the medical college made a formal proposition to the directors of the university for a substantial merger of the university for a substantial merger of the two institutions.

Major General O. O. Howard, president of the Board of Directors, called a meeting to consider the proposition. The meeting was held this afternoon at No. 150 Nassau street, this city.

meeting was held this afternoon at No. 150 Nassau street, this city.

After considerable discussion, the proposal of the medical college was approved and a committee of three was approved to carry out the plan. The board examined the drawings of new buildings furnished by Hies & Weeks, architects of this city, and substantially approved of the work already done.

This included the crection of the library which Andrew Carnegie conditionally promised to the institution. Mr. Carnegie's conditions have already been fulfilled and the work will be completed under the direction of the Building Committee, Bovernor's Military Household Will Be Resplendent in Gold When It Visits Portland Expection.

When Governor Folk departs for the Portland Exposition next month he will be accompanied by his military staff, who will be fitted out in new uniforms.

This feature was arranged at the meeting of the staff at the Planters Hotel vesterday afternoon, when a large number of the party attended.

The entire staff will be uniformed in the latest army fashions, glittering with brass buttons and gold threads. The start will be made September 19.

The following officers attended the meeting: Generals James A. De Armond, Butler; Emmett Newton, Springfield; George S. McGrew, St. Louis; Henry P. Lay, Warsaw; Henry Lee, Columbia; Frank J. day afternoon unanimously adopted a resolution binding its 1.30 members to make no further resistance against the Sunday closing law.

So far as the association is concerned no further assistance will be given to any sulconfeeper, either in or out of the organisation, who mises the "id."

The resolution was prepared by a committee of four members appointed four weeks ago. The committee consisted of Andrew Herpel, chairman; Henry Stuhiman, secretary; Theodore Scheenlau and A. R. Hennig. The president of the association is Edward Koeln, former members of the House of Delogates, and Emil Floerice is accretary.

The resolution follows:

Whereas, A condition and not a theory confronts the law-abiding members of the House of Lordon and an issue serious in its relations to us and our present, as well as future, interests and business exists, it becomes our duty as well as individual and covective laterests to declare the purposes of each and all to be law-abiding and supporting citizens, for the future as in the part, and in no sense or interest on the law deflers.

Our business in as legal as that of any other class of merchants or of any manufacturers, decause of that we bear, those who have complied with all the laws relating to the issuinance of national, State and city itemes, the commission of the United State Government, the State of Missourt and of the city of St. Louis. As long as we conserve the laws and abide by them we are entitled to the sum-consideration and protection as any other governmental licenses.

Conditions exist to-day unlooked for because of the long-dormant and unexecuted statutes, so long dormant and protection as any other governmental licenses.

Conditions exist to-day unlooked for because of the long-dormant and not exceed to be and greater judgment and respect for our own citizenship and interests by full and complete avoidance of any purpose to defy the laws and the executors thereof, by a strict avoidance of any inclination or overt act of defiance, and on the contrary, most willingly whether it be dry goods or hardware merchants or preachers.

The fact is that there giready has been too much of an effort among those not identified with us, nonmembers, as well as a few higher up amongst the beer manufacturers.

This has been unfortunate and was calculated to, as it no doubt has, brought en an unlooked-for political friction through which we are now the unfernable sufferers. The commendable effort of our members not to align themselves with any of the indiscreet, inside or depart therefrom, nor to humiliate equarives in continuing in our past and present lines, to which we can point with satisfaction and metification. Our duty, as well as our interest, is to expose, instant of defend, hav deferall pon this pintform and idea we can go into the future with the hope of public support and respect, and upon no other.

We do not neck any special favors. We rely upon our good citizenship and inv-abiding record, and the same protection that is accorded any nanufacturers, merchants and licensees of the United States Government, of the State government and of the city government—a square deal, no more, no less, in the complete and imparital enforcement of all laws against all law-breakers. newal and continuance. Upon us, and us necessively the future and its results; therefore, be ft

Resolved, by the Liquer Dealers' Association of St. Louis, That we will maintain our record of the past and deprecate the nonobservance of the law in any of our members, and will neither give our individual, collective not financial aid to any of them nor to any cut-side breaker and defler of the law concerning our burnless; and be it further our association and ourselves for the future.

Resolved. That we will maintain and abide by the sentiments above set forth, so essential to the records of the past and the interests of our association and ourselves for the future.

The committee which prepared the report visited hundreds of saloonkeepers in the last month to ascertain their feeling in the matter and they report that they found the dealers less opposed to the Bunday closing order as a class than they have other individuals.

The report was read by Andrew Herpel, chairman of the committee, and was greeted with applause.

Since the saloom have been closed on Bunday by order of Governor Folk, the association's membership has nearly doubled, as those who did not belong before figured that they would have the protection the organisation might give.

It was first reported that the association would appropriate a large fund to fight in the courts all prosecution of their members. Many members were in favor of doing so, but it is understood that most of the money used in opposing the State in the prosecutions has been paid by the brewerles.

Whether the association will take steps to have the law repealed at a special session of the Legislature has not been decided, but many favor such proceeding. At the regular session two years hence, however, the matter probably will be taken up, but the most influential members say that so long as the statute remains in force they will abide by it, and will continue to urge all saloonkeepers to do likewise.

District Attorney Tells Attorney General There Was Nothing Unusual in Allowing Prisoner Liberty as Trusty.

United States District Attorney D. P. Dyer, on request of Attorney General Moody, yesterday made a full report to the department at Washington of the Dolan affair at the Jefferson City Penitenthe department at Washington of the Dolan affair at the Jefferson City Penitentiary.

"There was nothing unusual in the proceeding," said Colonel Dyer. "When the story was first published, I wrote to Warden Hall about the matter and he replied that when he had taken office he found Dolan a trusty and flaw no reason why he should not be continued as such. He added that Dolan appeared to be a trustworthy man and he had to have such a one to attend to the guarding and shipping of the binding twine which had been manufactured."

"The Attorney General saw the story in a Cincinnati paper and sent me the clipping with a request for a report. I sent him the Warden's letter and an explanation and new I shall await instructions from Mr. Moody.

"If he wishes action taken he will have to active me to proceed, for I am not authorized to proceed against anyone in the present instance. In fact, I cannot see that enything unusual has happened. Dolan was merely a trusty, such as all prisons have, and the story that was originally published merely stirred up a lot of unpleasant things and did no one any good.

"I may add that Warden Hall said in his letter that since there had been so much objection raised about Dolan's being a trusty he had been deprived of all privileges and was confined in the prison as are all prisoners who are not trusties."
